

European Science Editing

Vol 35(3)
August 2009

ISSN 0258-3127

European Association of Science
Editors

EASE

www.ease.org.uk

Editorials

- 66 Joan Marsh: European science editors – recruiting the next generation

Articles

- 67 Bob Grant: Fake paper causes open access storm

Essays

- 69 Sylwia B Ufnalska, James Hartley: How can we evaluate the quality of abstracts?

Editing Around the World

- 72 Katja Mruck, Günter Mey: Publishing qualitative research: ten years' experience

Correspondence

- 74 English as she is wrote (John Taylor)

Viewpoints

- 75 Carol Norris: Let's turn posters upside down!
76 Marcin Kozak: Last paragraph: the voice of a naive scientist?

Reports of meetings

- 77 How to be a successful journal editor (Pippa Smart)
77 COPE seminar 2009 (Gary Bryan)

Book reviews

- 79 Jane Fraser et al: Creating Effective Conference Abstracts and Posters in Biomedicine (Manuella Walker)
80 Ann Bless, Ed Hull: Reader-Friendly Biomedical Articles: How to Write Them! (Maira Johnson)
80 Denis Baron, McKenzie Clarke: Units, Symbols, and Abbreviations: A Guide for Authors and Editors... (Maira Johnson)

News from editing societies

- 81 NECOBELAC, a European project to promote the diffusion of scientific information in public health
83 sTANDEmpex: a standardized assessment system for English for medical purposes
84 ISMTE: a new society connecting editorial offices

Regular features

- 85 EASE-Forum Digest, March-June 2009 (Elise Langdon-Neuner, compiler)
87 My Life as an Editor: Hervé Maisonneuve
88 This Site I Like: Notes from the blogosphere (Margaret Cooter)
89 News Notes (Richard Hurley, compiler)
92 The Editor's Bookshelf (Penny Hubbard, Paola De Castro, compilers)
95 Forthcoming meetings, courses, and BELS examinations

EASE business

- 96 Nominations for Council, Positions vacant, Membership changes, Pisa update, Members' news