

European Science Editing

Vol 35(4)
November 2009

ISSN 0258-3127

European Association of Science
Editors

EASE

www.ease.org.uk

EASE Conference report

- 98 Dario Sambunjak, Richard Hurley: Integrity in science communication

Essays in editing

- 101 Paul Evans: Morals and scientific publishing
103 Marcin Kozak: Text-table: an undervalued and underused tool for communicating information

Editing around the world

- 106 Karen Shashok: AuthorAid in the Eastern Mediterranean: a communication bridge between mainstream and emerging research communities

Correspondence

- 108 There are times when the bottom line should be the top line! (Moirra Johnson)

Viewpoints

- 109 Stuart Handysides: The tower that should not have been built; the paper that should not have been published
Emma Campbell: Is your website working hard enough?

Reports of meetings

- 111 The future of scientific publishing (Juliet Walker)

Book reviews

- 112 Eric Lichtfouse: Rédiger pour être publié ! Conseils pratiques pour les scientifiques (Christine Rawski)
DE Matthews and BT Farewell: Using and understanding medical statistics, 4th ed (Arjan Polderman)
113 John D Barrow: Cosmic imagery: key images in the history of science (Tony Wallis)

Regular features

- 114 EASE-Forum Digest, June to September 2009 (Elise Langdon-Neuner, compiler)
116 My Life as an Editor: Ele Ferraninni
117 News Notes (Richard Hurley, compiler)
120 The Editor's Bookshelf (Penny Hubbard and Paola De Castro, compilers)
123 Forthcoming meetings, courses, and BELS examinations

EASE business

- 124 Nominations for Council, Positions vacant, Membership changes, Pisa update, Members' news