Endorsements - October 2016

As of this month, there are 18 endorsements of the SAGER Guidelines for Sex and Gender Equity in Research.

We invite you to encourage colleagues in your science editor networks – including authors, reviewers and funders – to endorse the Guidelines, by completing the form at: www.ease.org.uk/genderpolicycommittee

Endorsement expresses support of the principles of the SAGER Guidelines. It helps to create a momentum and mobilize all who can help to persuade publishers and journals to implement them.

Endorsement is not full adoption and implementation – that demands more time and change. We stand ready to assist, by tracking and reporting progress, success – and setback. More news in Endorsed! on 10 November 2016.
